Barton Park Oxford Website launch and first site activities

IN OCTOBER 2013, Barton Oxford LLP (a joint venture between Oxford City Council and Grosvenor Developments) was granted planning permission for a development of up to 885 homes, a park, improved allotments, a community hub including a primary school, sports facilities and a food store.

Today's website launch, www.bartonparkoxford.com, marks a significant milestone, kick-starting a range of physical activities that need to take place on site before house building can begin.

Over the next few days, some trees and hedgerows will be removed to create the space for a junction to the A40 providing the new gateway in to the site. Signage promoting Barton Park will also be erected.

Today also sees the start of a range of consultation events which runs until 8 April, which will be asking the local residents to inform the designs of the park and green spaces.

■ Please do visit www.bartonparkoxford.com and see the link to Barton Community Association via the Amenities tab.

Free computer access for job seekers

WE HAVE two computers in the foyer opposite the doctor's surgery that are free to use for anyone job searching, applying online for jobs and following up job applications.

You can access the computers anytime the centre is open and on Wednesday mornings until 12 noon a member of the Job Club team will be available to help you if required.

Most people now have to prove that they are looking for work by using Universal Job what it will look like and how it will integrate with the existing Barton.

We'd like you to become involved in the website so if you have any ideas for the site or would like to contribute either information or photographs please do so by contacting Martin on the email address below.

Eventually we'd like the site to contain all you need to know about Barton and act as a source of information and support for all residents and with your feedback we should be able to achieve that aim so let us know what you think.

The next addition to the site will be the facility to sign up to Hands on News by email and also receive regular updates and information by subscribing to the website online.

Match or other search tools and we can provide support with this at the Job Club drop-in sessions on Wednesday evenings.

The computers will allow you to use most of the job search engines, the most popular email services such as Hotmail, google mail and MSN and also access many of the employers websites in Oxford.

But please note it is unlikely you will be able to use the computers for any other use as the websites that can be accessed is restricted to job search activity only. This is to ensure that those people who need support looking for work can use the computers when they need to.

Improvements for Barton's streets

By Van Coulter
Councillor, Barton and Sandhills

THE City Council is seeking to improve Oxford's suburbs because council tenants not only need an affordable decent home, but also need a decent neighbourhood.

Through funding made available from the City Council's housing rent account, improvements are being made in Oxford's social housing estates – including Barton.

Well-kept avenues with trees and verges certainly add to the attractiveness of neighbourhoods. But, when too few spaces are available for the growing number of cars, what were visual assets quickly become unsightly blots that spoil the street view.

It's somewhat disappointing that the view into Barton through Burchester Avenue has not been what it should be. Happily, the "Great Estates" programme is providing for the refurbishment of the verges along Burchester Avenue.

Appreciating that cars are being parked on verges because nowhere else is available – the City Council is putting down protective mesh, refreshing the top soil, seeding new grass and by doing this is securing the verges as green spaces whether or not cars park over the established grass. It should be the end to unsightly, muddy spoilt verges on Burchester Avenue.

Added to this, vulnerable tree roots are being protected. And, while three trees which have become too damaged to save – three new trees will be planted to maintain the appearance of the avenue.

Other local works being actively pursued include improving parking in Bernwood Road and the much needed resurfacing of Northway, Barton Village Road and Fettiplace Road.

A slice of summertime fun for Barton youngsters

On your bike!

By PCSO Libbie Stiff

RECENTLY there have been a couple of bikes and/or bike parts being stolen from the estate. The descriptions of the bike/parts have been brilliant however please make sure you record your frame number. This is the number on the underneath of the main bike frame which is normally printed into the metal. The frame number is specific to your bike and is the only way to confirm the bike is the right one.

On one occasion a bike was seen and believed to be stolen however without having the frame number of the stolen bike it was impossible to prove this was the case.

If you need any help with this please pop into our Community Beat Office at Underhill Circus or stop one of the Neighbourhood Police Team while we are out on our patrols. We're here to help keep you safe but we need you to help too.

Illegal money lending

EXTRACT from the recent newsletter produced by the Trading Standards Illegal Money Lending Team:

The England Stop Loan Sharks Team have identified over 2,000 illegal lenders, offered support to over 23,070 loan shark victims and written off over £55 million of illegal debt.

This is money that would otherwise have been in a loan sharks pocket! The team have completed 313 prosecutions leading to 198 years' worth of custodial sentences. We could never have achieved these fantastic results without the support, commitment and knowledge of our partners in the communities we work in, together with the co-operation of the victims themselves.

There is a very strong message contained within this report so please don't hesitate to contact someone from the team if you are being harassed by or a victim of a loan shark. Maybe you know someone who is a loan shark victim, and if so please pass on this article to them. The confidential hotline is 0300 555 2222 or you may prefer to send an e-mail to: reportalanshark@stoploansharks.gov.uk

Streets for people

HOW do you fancy holding a real old fashioned party in the street where you live? Or maybe you would rather use the space for street games, skipping, hopscotch, marbles, space hoppers or anything else your imagination comes up with. You can now apply for your street to be closed to traffic for a number of hours so that this type of event can take place. We have been advised that Sunday afternoons during September are the most favoured times for Street parties and Street games.

If anyone is interested in the idea then please contact us at Barton Community Association as resources are available for you to use, and we will offer support where possible, but we are unable to co-ordinate any events.

Hi teenagers of Barton!

We have been given this blank half a page to write about the things we like and what could improve Barton, as well as our interests. Whether your interest is music, sports or computers, or you have done something you and your family are proud of, we want to hear about it.

If you want to have a say about the way the page looks and what goes in it also want to hear your points of view.

Look forward to printing your articles in the Autumn edition of Hands On News.

...So what do you think?

Young entrepreneur Morgan Williams (right) with mentor Jem Todd.

Young Entrepreneur Interview

Morgan Williams from Thrive project Barton won the prestigious award of Entrepreneur of the Year at the Youth Awards Ceremony at the New Theatre in Oxford last month. The young man has been mentored by Jem Todd through the Thrive project.

Interview by Emmanuel Odwar.

Morgan: We started at one pop up restaurant, where was it?

Jem: We did an event for 20 people serving curry and Chocolate Brownies in Kidlington. Didn't we do one at the church, for 60 people, wasn't it?

Morgan: Yeah.

Jem: What was that, what did we cook? Remember?

Morgan: Chocolate Brownies.

Emmanuel: What are your future plans?

Morgan: I haven't got any.

Jem: Yeah, you have, you liar. You're the worst interviewee ever.

Emmanuel: How and where did you meet Jem?

Morgan: It's better, if you say it.

Jem: Morgan was referred to Thrive Barton by Social Services because he was computer gaming too much and wasn't really leaving his house. So, I started to hang out with him and for the first year, he was mainly grunting at me and telling me to go away. Then we established a relationship and began to have fun and that developed into having conversations about life, success and what that looked like.

Then Morgan said that he wanted to start learning about business and completed led by him; he decided that he wanted to do cooking and that led to cooking at events and we managed to raise £600. Sometimes, we receive orders and customise food for events. Don't we?

Morgan: Yeah

Emmanuel: What were the reasons for you choosing those fields?

Morgan: I've always enjoyed cookery and cooking for big events.

Emmanuel: What exactly is it about cooking that gets you going?

Morgan: The different tastes that you can get from different flavours.

Emmanuel: What's your next event and when will it be?

Morgan: We might be doing breakfast for 120 people.

Jem: The event will be in a couple of months but I don't know where it will be. The event will be a breakfast for a conference and we've been asked to do it.

Emmanuel: Are you employed, self employed or a bit of both?

Jem: We are commissioned by the hosts of the event.

Emmanuel Odwar: Morgan, how did you feel when your name was announced as the winner of the prize at the award ceremony?

Morgan Williams: I didn't want to walk on stage.

Emmanuel: Why didn't you want to go up on stage?

Morgan: I was nervous.

Emmanuel: Why were you nervous?

Morgan: Because I didn't want to go up on stage in front of everyone.

Emmanuel: Ok, so how did you get your award?

Morgan: I had to go up.

Emmanuel: Did you go up with company or did you go up by yourself?

Morgan: I went up by myself.

Emmanuel: How did you feel when you went up to collect the award and then walked back?

Morgan: I was shocked after receiving it and still in shock on the way back.

Emmanuel: What did you do to celebrate your success?

Jem Todd: We went for a milkshake then a sushi didn't we?

Morgan: Yeah

Emmanuel: How did you start out as an Entrepreneur?

Morgan: Jem, you're very good at this; you've said it many times.

Jem: Mate, you need to say it in your words, come on.

Morgan: You're better.

Jem: Come on. What was the first business idea you pursued?

Morgan: A pop up restaurant.

Emmanuel: What's a pop up restaurant?

Morgan: We cook food for people at a place then serve it to them.

Jem: It's a restaurant which is at a venue for one meal or one day and we're at the restaurant for some hours. The reason why we did that was because Morgan wanted to learn about business and he thought why wait while I'm at college or until I finish school, when I can do that now.

Emmanuel: What did you learn from the experience?

Morgan: Keep on trying, even if it's hard.

Emmanuel: What aspect of working at a pop up restaurant, did you find hard?

Morgan: It was when one of the shifts I did was very long and the work was non stop.

Emmanuel: When did you begin your business venture?

Bill Dibber's Seasonal Recipes

LOCAL Barton resident, Bill Dibber has kindly agreed to take a few hours out of his busy allotment schedule to share some seasonal tips on healthy home cooking from ingredients that can be grown in the garden, the allotment or your window box!

This month, use up your not so prize winning marrows (they can't all be!) for an easy to make microwaved marrow and tomatoes or pick your own strawberries and have them baked with honey whipped cream, lipsmackingly good.

Microwaved Marrow with Tomatoes (quick and easy)

Ingredients for 2

- 1 small marrow about 450g/1lb
- 150ml or quarter of a pint of passata
- Half tsp dried oregano or dried mixed herbs
- Salt (to taste)
- Freshly ground black pepper (to taste)

1. Peel away the thick skin from the outside of the marrow with a potato peeler. Cut the marrow into 2.5cm or 1 inch thick slices. Cut the slices into half and remove the seeds.
2. Place the slices flat into a buttered microwave-proof dish and spread them out to fill all the space.
3. Heat the passata to just below boiling and stir in the herbs. Then pour over the marrow and season with salt and pepper to taste.
4. Cover the dish with cling film and cook on a high setting for six minutes, turning the dish halfway into the cooking. Test if the marrow slices are tender and if not put them back in for another 30 seconds and repeat if necessary.
5. To cook in a conventional oven you can preheat the oven 190°C, 350°F or gas mark 5. Place the marrow slices in an oven proof dish, pour over the tomato mixture and cover with foil. Bake for 35-45 min, until the marrow is tender.

Baked Strawberries with Honey whipped cream (June onwards)

Ingredients for 2-4

- A punnet of strawberries, as local as possible
- A knob of unsalted butter
- 3tbsp sugar (brown and fair trade is best!)
- Half a mug of whipping cream
- 2tbsp runny honey
- A splash of vanilla essence
- Mint leaves to garnish (Grow it on your windowsill, tastes better fresh!)

1. Pre-heat the oven to 190°C/375°F/Gas mark 5 and remove the tops of the strawberries
2. Melt the butter in an oven proof frying pan, add the sugar and give it a little stir before adding all the strawberries, tossing them to coat them in the mix.
3. Put the pan in the oven for five minutes and then remove and turn the strawberries over and pop them back in for a further five minutes.
4. While they are baking, whip the cream until it starts to peak, then fold the runny honey through the cream and add the vanilla.

Add the dollops to bowls and then remove the strawberries from the oven and place them on top of the cream, drizzling the pan syrup over them.

5. Garnish with mint leaves and serve.

Call to get involved in the Community Partnership

Phil Jones

he managed the Barton Neighbourhood Centre and is proud that this management function is now ably accomplished by the staff and volunteers connected with the Barton Community Association. The more engaged local people become in determining their future the better it is for everyone concerned.

He is now responsible for developing the Barton Community Partnership and he really wants your help to make it work!

Because he has been in and around Barton for some time, Phil is aware that some local people are sceptical about just how much they can influence local decisions or have any real say or sway in what's going!

However, somebody famous once said that 'Change will not come if we wait for some other person or some other time.

We are the ones we've been waiting for. We are the change that we seek - It is this local engagement and involvement in the community partnership that Phil and the folks already playing a part really want to encourage!

In essence The Barton Community Partnership wants to improve the quality of life for local people by developing local solutions to local problems and encouraging people to work together to make Barton a better place to live!

Phil said so far there have been around twelve or so local people taking an active part in the Community Partnership process - most of whom are involved in one or more of the five sub-groups focusing on Health and Fitness, Housing and Environment, Employment and Learning, Youth activities and Community Safety.

Some of the things these local people have already significantly and positively influenced include the reintroduction of a full time Sargent to lead the Barton Neighbourhood Police team, the delivery and coordination of a full programme of youth activities during most school holidays and the engagement of an employment coordinator to provide one to one support for people wanting to improved their job prospects.

If we can achieve this with just a few people involved imagine what we could do with more!

Finally Phil said that Community Partnership is keen to establish two further focus groups to look at issues relating to Older People and Education Attainment and desperately needs local people to get involved and influence future decisions and service provision.
